

Exactor Sales Tax Transaction Tracking

The life of a transaction does not begin and end with the placement of an order. Once a consumer makes a purchase, the transaction has just begun. Exactor's finely tuned tracking sales tax application, Exactor Sales Tax Transaction Tracking Module, will identify any and all changes made to a transaction such as the time of change, by who the alteration was made, and the reason for the change. All this information is then coupled with the original transaction to ensure the merchant can prepare accurate sales tax returns and avoid expensive and unnecessary out-of-pocket costs.

After filing the tax return, sales tax audits follow which are daunting, tedious, and expensive processes. The burden of proof for accuracy of sales tax calculation rests with the filing merchant, who must also prove any reporting or remitting errors that may have occurred were not systematic or by design. Audits can cost tens to hundreds of thousands of dollars in manpower alone, before any fines or penalties are imposed. By drawing on data from the Exactor Sales Tax Transaction Tracking Module, the Exactor sales tax automation system provides comprehensive reports that track all transactions completely from beginning to end. These reports can easily be filtered by state to provide sales tax auditors with a complete audit trail of all business transacted in any given state. The Exactor Sales Tax Transaction Tracking Module is ideally positioned as a comprehensive tool for transactional audit purposes, providing merchants with additional support for Sarbanes Oxley compliance (SOX).
