Exactor Sales Tax Filing Module

Generating returns and sales tax filing are formidable tasks. Remembering to do these consistently, on-time, and knowing which sales tax returns need to be filed to which states and when compounds the difficulty. Filing requirements can differ from one filing period to the next. There is almost nothing consistent about the process. Limited resources and fragmented responsibilities often leave an entire team accountable; small errors, filing a day late, not having proof of filing or a simple sales tax calculation error resulting in a few pennies filing error, are all costly mistakes that could cost hundreds of dollars per occurrence
